Since the ITU has removed the morse proficiency requirement from its guidelines, I believe complete removal of the morse requirement as proposed in the past is now possible. I urge the commission to do so as soon as possible.